| 87         | Section L.11, (b) (2) "Proposal Content and Page Limitation" | Scaling of Excel Cost Exhibits files for Hardcopy printing | Is scaling of the Excel worksheets for hardcopy printing allowed?                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        | N/A                                            | Yes, exhibits can be scaled for hardcopy printing.                                         |
| 88         | 2nd Column of Cost Exhibit 2A                                | N/A                                                        | The Government has asked vendors to label proposed resources by their "Labor Type (E or NE)". Since there are Union contractors supporting this effort, can we identify when personnel will be proposed as Union personnel? Is it permissible to label those resources as "Union" or "U" to distinguish them from Exempt, or Non-Exempt? | N/A                                            | Yes, it is permissible to label Union personnel as "U" as long as there is a clear legend. |
